

Dear Friends,

Here is your Martha Activity Kit. It contains everything you need to host your own Martha party: invitations, name tags, coloring sheets, a maze, word games, and more.

Martha is quite a unique dog. It all started the day her owner, Helen, fed her alphabet soup. The letters went up to her brain instead of down to her stomach and Martha hasn't stopped talking. Since that moment, Martha has been quite busy—foiling burglars, winning radio call-in contests, fighting corporate downsizing, and taming the neighborhood bully.

Because each tale about this chattering mutt is filled with lots of laughs, we are sure that your Martha parties will be quite a success. In addition to being fun, the activities in this kit are useful in learning what is appropriate—and inappropriate— to say, teaching language skills such as spelling and reading, and in decoding context clues.

We hope that you enjoy this activity kit!

MARTHA'S VERB GAME

Martha loves verbs. Verbs are action words that bring sentences to life. Can you fill Martha's favorite verbs into the following sentences?

falls, runs, jumps

1. Martha _____ very high.

speaks, follows, sits

2. Martha _____ when she is fed alphabet soup.

rolls over, leads, calls

3. Martha _____ friends on the phone.

says, laughs, eats

4. Martha _____ funny things.

barks, runs, loves

5. Martha _____
her family.

Martha loves to speak. Read the funny things she has to say, then color the sheet.

Martha is just not feeling like herself...
Connect the dots from A-Z then 1-67.

Can you make it to the center of Martha's letter
maze? There are only a couple of
rules: you must
move from A to Z
consecutively
and cross over each letter on the way to the center.
